Del Frisco's Grille is an American bar and grill that will elevate any night out with hand-crafted cocktails and a refreshing, modern menu that draws inspiration from bold flavors and fresh ingredients. Architects wanted to create an inviting and stylish atmosphere, built for creating an incredible experience that takes any lunch date, happy hour or night out to refreshing new heights.

One of the challenges facing the architects with this task was controlling reverberation throughout the restaurant. SonaSpray "fc" in the custom color Urban Bronze was chosen to meet this challenge. SonaSpray "fc" outperforms all other acoustic products on the market today, and its availability in custom colors was perfect for matching the restaurant's color scheme. This customization allowed the architects to achieve the stylish atmosphere that ceiling tiles wouldn't have been able to do.

No matter your project's requirements and budget constraints, ICC's products can be customized to meet your needs. Restaurants, warehouses, worship facilities, gymnasiums, and schools are just a few of the many types of projects that benefit from SonaSpray "fc".

URBAN GRAPE

Boston, MA

The distinguished owners of the Urban Grape dreamed of creating a neighborhood wine store centered around community, memories and joy through the experience of wine. The concrete coffered ceiling created a challenge due to the echo and deafening reverberation it produced. This challenge was effectively resolved by the architects at Oudens Ello who made the decision to have 0.5" of SonaSpray "fc" white applied over the ceiling. This clean, crisp application provides state of the art acoustical control while maintaining the ceiling's original, rustic construction look. The application produces an outstanding Noise Reduction Coefficient of 65%.
